

Warning - Division I Student-Athlete Rendered Ineligible

Although they are not part of the NCAA membership, by participating in the NCAA certification and approval process and benefiting from those opportunities, League Operators are voluntarily submitting themselves and their league(s) to NCAA legislation, guidelines and requirements.

The ECAG website is the essential bulletin board of information for these individuals and they will be held accountable to all information posted on this site. Therefore, it is advisable that these individuals make themselves aware of the information posted AND are encouraged to frequent the site for changes that may occur.

Failure to adhere to these requirements will render the individual and/or their organization subject to the penalties outlined in the ECAG Adverse Actions document. In that regard, if a Division I student-athlete is rendered ineligible for collegiate athletics due to participation in a summer league and is subsequently forced to submit to the student-athlete reinstatement process, current or future certification of the league may be affected.

Related Legislation

Related Guidelines

Adverse Actions