

2018-19 PROSPECTIVE STUDENT-ATHLETE REVIEW TRIGGER LIST

“Academic year” includes the subsequent summer (e.g., 2017-18 includes summer 2018).
“High school” includes all secondary-school programs (e.g., nontraditional, correspondence, independent study).

Triggers

1	Graduated from a high school where no core courses were successfully completed.
2	GPA increase of 0.500 or greater from the previous credit-reporting period(s).
3	Concurrent enrollment in sequential core courses (e.g., Algebra I and Algebra II) and/or sequential terms of a core course (e.g., Algebra I, Sem 1 and Algebra I, Sem 2) during the same academic term.
4	Disproportionate amount of core credits earned in an academic term.
5	Two or more repeated core courses in an academic term.
6	Four or more repeated core credits during high school.
7	More than one academic year between repeated core courses taken post-sixth semester.
8	Transfer during an academic year involving a program reporting trimester grades and credits.
9	Test-score inconsistency (based on NCAA academic certification data).
	Final GPA vs. SAT	$< 2.0 \text{ and } \geq 1000$ $< 2.7 \text{ and } \geq 1200$ $< 3.0 \text{ and } \geq 1300$
	Final GPA vs. ACT	$< 2.0 \text{ and } \geq 85$ $< 2.7 \text{ and } \geq 105$ $< 3.0 \text{ and } \geq 115$
	SAT vs. ACT	$< 500 \text{ and } \geq 85$ $< 900 \text{ and } \geq 95$ $< 1000 \text{ and } \geq 105$
	ACT vs. SAT	$< 55 \text{ and } \geq 1000$ $< 75 \text{ and } \geq 1100$ $< 85 \text{ and } \geq 1200$
	Note: Test-score triggers apply to individual ACT or SAT scores (not sum or combined scores). The College Board concordance table is used to determine whether a score from the redesigned SAT (March 2016 and beyond) meets a test-score trigger. Further, “Final GPA” refers to the core-course GPA on any final certification the Eligibility Center has released.
10	Information regarding inaccurate, false or misleading activity related to an individual’s academic credentials (e.g., courses, grades, credits, transcripts, test scores, graduation, enrollment history).
